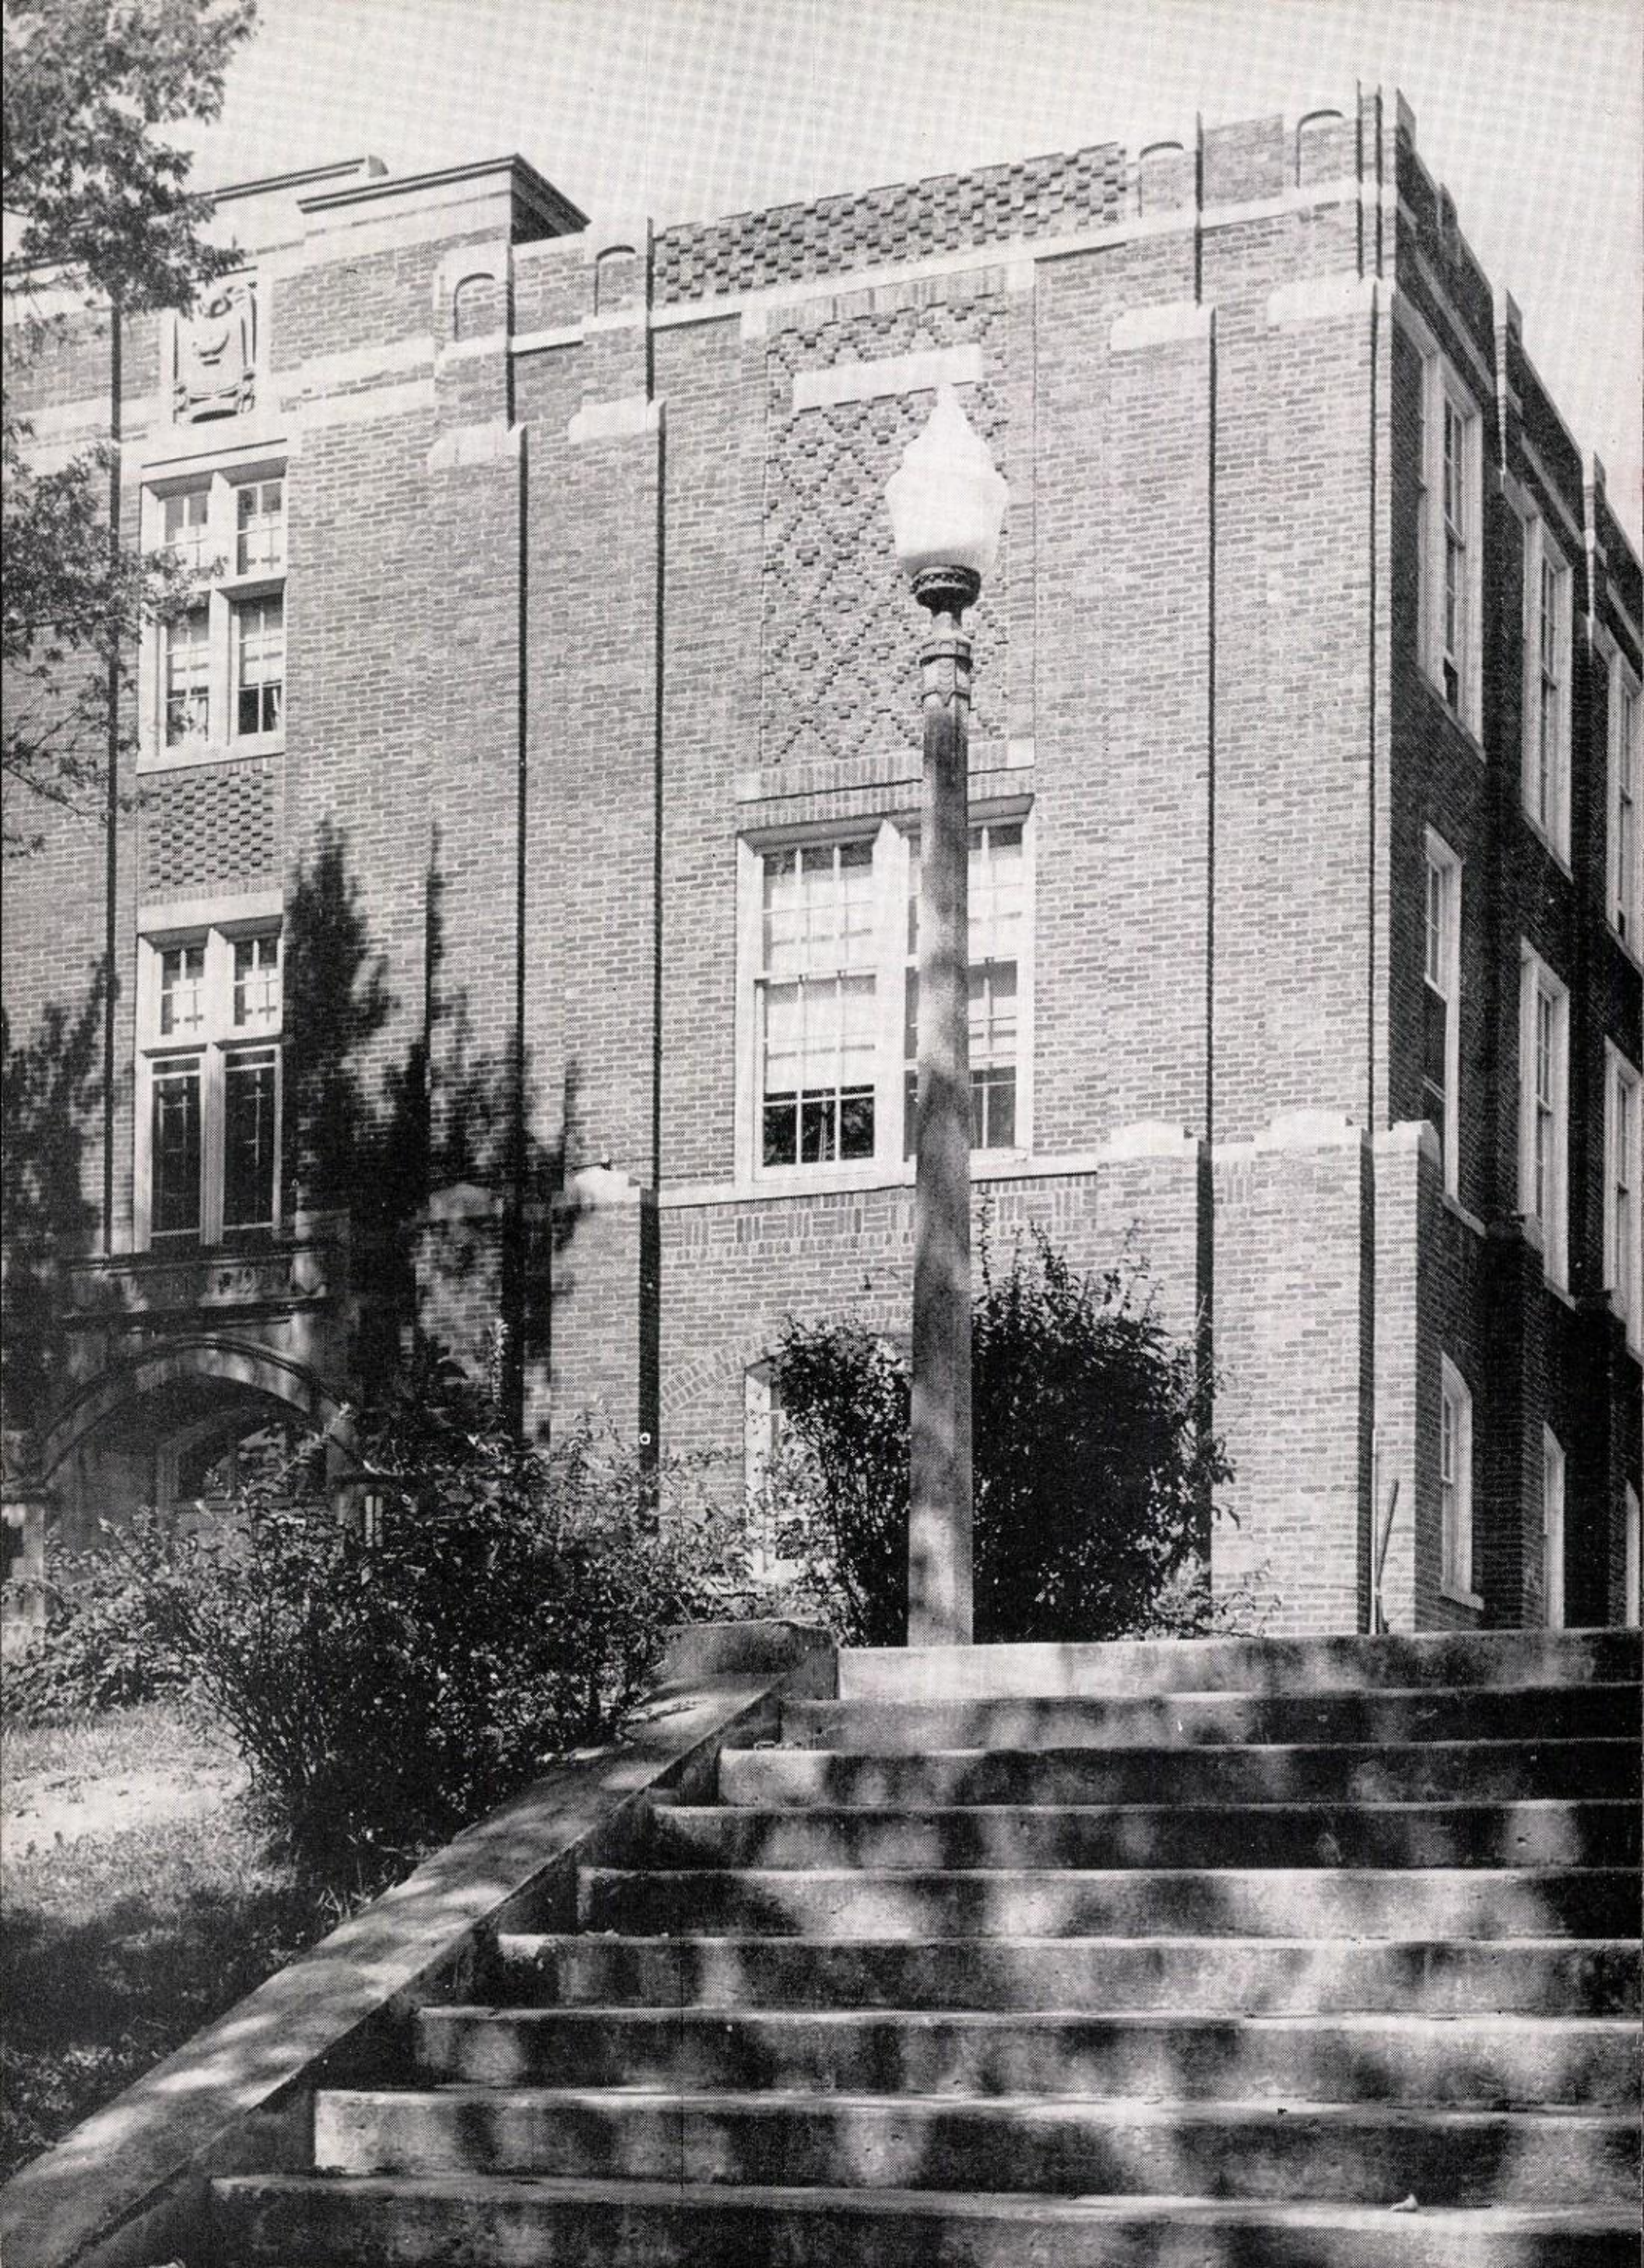
ROUND THE CLOCK

J.S.

THE 1953
YELLOWJACKET
SIDNEY HIGH SCHOOL



Every Hour Counts at S H S

A familiar object seen in almost every room at Sidney High is "The Clock." Its bright face hides a mechanism which is always clicking away twenty-four hours of the day.

When seventh graders first come to school, these clocks are very novel to them because they click every minute, but for the six-year-clock-watcher each click means a minute closer to the end of the school day.

The most outstanding clock at Sidney High is the clock on the score board at games which seems always to go too slowly when Sidney is ahead and too fast when Sidney is behind.

All in all though, the clocks around Sidney High School click off many happy moments for students and teachers alike.

Orchestra Plays in Assemblies

The senior orchestra, directed by Paul Fitzwater, rehearses on Tuesdays and Thursdays. It performs for assemblies, class plays, and commencement, and presents a Band-Orchestra Concert in February.

The junior orchestra, under student director Jerry Scanlin, plays for junior assemblies and has a concert in May.

Classes Begin at Eight-thirty

Janitors, students, and teachers — that's what makes a well-run school tick from early morning till long after the last class is over for the day.

Students of Sidney High not only attend regular classes throughout the day but also have the opportunity to take part in many outside activities. This makes their day 'round the clock at SHS more interesting and full. Variety is the spice of life.

Several senior girls organized the Senior Girls' Trio in their spare time. They provided entertainment at various school functions.

In the lower pictures the janitors are taking a well-deserved rest from their busy duties to pose for the camera.

Work, Work and More Work

Bright and early in the morning there is nothing like the great outdoors!

Miss Gannon's gym class, shivering in the "grey dawn," may not echo that sentiment; but the bus drivers and Ag students seem glad of the chance to be out in the fresh air, if even for only a few moments.

All of which goes to show that whether you be a fresh-air fiend or not, your minutes at SHS are spent in a variety of places—indoors and out.

Time Flies as Students Struggle

Students who have been absent gather in the office each morning to get their attendance cards. In the lower left picture Miss Freytag passes these out to George Kookootsedes, Kathy Russell, Mary Kootkootsedes, Don Voorhees, Larry Lorton, Doris Harp, and Dottie Bodine.

Tickets are sold at noon and after school on game days. In the upper right Bob Conrad sells tickets to Sue McVay, Judy Bryan, and Bruce Bertsch.

Attendance awards are given every six weeks in assembly. At the lower right Tom Flinn presents plaques to homeroom monitors, Jan Scanlin, Jerry Kaufman, Judy Brown, and Janet Hahn.

Many Are Active the Day Long

With a wide variety of clubs available, it should be easy for a student to find just the right one to suit his interests.

Some clubs are connected with classes as is Inter Nos, the Latin Club.

All of the clubs provide valuable training besides offering entertainment and encouraging new friendships.

Student Council Sets Pace

Student Council is the governing body in Sidney High School. It consists of representatives from every class in the school and has at least one faculty adviser.

The activities of the Council were initiated by a "get-acquainted party" for all the students and teachers new to Sidney High. The class presidents and presidents of all major organizations were invited to attend.

All the activities of the Student Council are financed through pledges by the students to the "Student Chest Fund." The most outstanding of the activities are the publication of the handbook and the sponsoring of outside talent for assembly programs.

Each year the Council provides for the presale of tickets for football and basketball games. At the end of each six weeks period the honor roll is computed under the Council's supervision. Locker clean-ups are carried on monthly throughout the year, and during midwinter a courtesy campaign is organized. Instructions are given to each room in school in case of a fire, and then fire drills are practiced during the fall and spring. Attendance plaques are awarded each six weeks to the home rooms having the highest percentage of attendance. At the end of each year a "lost and found" sale is sponsored by the Council. The articles left in the lost and found department of the school are sold at auction for a few cents each.

This year's Student Council was privileged to have as its secretary-treasurer, Bob Conrad, the first male member to hold that office in the history of Sidney High School.

Five columns of pertinent print about SHS which appear in the daily paper every Saturday under the heading "Sidney High School News" are a familiar sight to high school students.

This paper is brought to the students and the public through the efforts of the news staff.

For those junior and senior news writers who have done superior work, there is the Quill and Scroll, an honorary society formed to encourage and reward individual achievement in journalism.

Both the news class and Quill and Scroll are supervised by Mrs. Blust.

Library is Door to Knowledge

The school library is open to students for reference, enjoyment, or for browsing around.

The new card catalog this year came in mighty handy. Because of many displays from various teachers, and redecoration, the library was cozy and attractive this year.

Many new books arrived throughout the year, including exciting sport stories and interesting career books. Students do not have to worry about getting "a good book," because there are many fiction stories and biographies on many subjects.

The set of Popular Science books, the Book of Authors, and encyclopedias are useful for information and reference.

Many magazines, such as "Life," "Popular Mechanics," add to the enjoyment of students while they are at the library.

Also, for help in planning parties or for clubs and organizations, books, pamphlets, and booklets may be found.

Such a wide collection of material in the library gives the student body a wonderful chance to enlarge its reading field.

Miss Bettie Duncan, who is in charge of the Sidney High library, receives assistance from capable girls in the ninth through the twelfth grades. They help students throughout the day.

Scholarship Ratings Are High

In the spring of every year energetic students may be seen completely absorbed with chemistry manuals, old English tests, or perhaps French drill pads. They are preparing with concentrated study for an elimination test. The students having the three highest scores in each test go to Miami University to take the State Scholarship Tests. The competition is always very strong.

Each year the seniors participate in the Senior Scholarship Test conducted by the State Department of Education. The test includes the five general subjects: mathematics, English, history, science, and reading.

These tests help stimulate in students a desire for further knowledge and bring to light hidden abilities.

Audio and Vis Ed Help Students

Every second and fourth Thursday of the month a radio program is put on by some club, organization, or class around Sidney High. Recordings of each program are made on the school's recorder by a student. The recording is then delivered to WPTW for broadcasting. Miss Owens is the consultant for the school programs.

The Visual Aids Department this year was under the direction of Mr. Spence, who took Mr. Auer's place in the Science Department.

This department takes care of ordering and showing films for the various classes requesting the service. The projectionists are chosen and trained from the three upper grades.

Safety Patrol Protects Students

The Safety Patrol is sponsored by the AAA with C. O. Wells as adviser. It has twenty members, who are divided between noon patrol and evening patrol. Any boys in grades seven to twelve may become members by obtaining written permission from their parents, then filing application with Mr. Wells.

In 1950 a student court was organized to try violators turned in by the members of the Safety Patrol. For first offense a student is warned, the second time he receives a week's detention, and for a third offense he is given two weeks' detention and to be dismissed must pass a test on safety. Ray Boller was student judge in 1952-1953.

In the spring, at recognition assembly, the members of the Safety Patrol are recognized for their year of service. At Christmas time the AAA gave the Safety Patrol a dinner with presents and entertainment.

Moms Pose; Voters Get Their Man

Included in the activities around Sidney High are the Football Mothers' Club and the school elections.

The Mothers' Club spends many precious hours each year preparing food to sell at football games, to feed boys before and after games, and to furnish supper for the basketball team on league game nights. In addition to all this, they find time to sponsor an after-season Football Banquet and a spring Kick-off Banquet.

The busy clock at Sidney High yielded time this year for an all-school presidential election. The Board of Elections, composed of the senior class officers under the guidance of Miss Owens, set up voting precincts in both gyms and the library. The election results nearly coincided with those of the November elections.

Boys and Girls Fight to Win

Many students take active part in the intramural sports at Sidney High.

Girls have the opportunity to participate in basketball and volleyball games held during the noon hour. They play softball after school in the spring.

Boys who don't make the high school team may play basketball in the Intramural League at noon.

M & G Makes Speech Easy

"Speech for use" is the motto of Sidney High's speech club, Masque and Gavel. This organization takes an active part in inter-scholastic speech contests and other projects around town such as Community Chest and Red Cross.

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors who meet the necessary qualifications may join.

Clubs Prepare Students for Future

FBLA

Any junior or senior girl who is taking any commercial subject is eligible to join the FBLA, which is sponsored by Miss Dillon and Mrs. Fridley.

The club tries to give the students experiences they can't have in the classroom and to help them become better acquainted with various types of office work.

This year a group of girls and Mrs. Fridley attended a convention at Mansfield to learn about the work of other clubs since the FBLA is a national organization.

There are several social events during the year. The club project is a gift for the commercial department.

FTA

FTA was founded by the National Council of Education and is sponsored by the National Education Association. Sidney High School chapter was organized in 1947.

The club encourages students to cultivate the qualities which are the foundations for teaching; to become acquainted with the story of schools and education; and to obtain information about teaching opportunities.

Miss Arnett is the club's new sponsor.

Backstagers Are Very Important

Imagine a play that has no scenery or sound effects and with the performers minus the make-up which enhances their parts and helps put them into character. SHS need never fear such a situation.

Through the combined efforts of the stage and make-up crew at Sidney High the annual presentations, such as the plays, operetta, and vocal and band concerts, are given the final polish which makes them more appealing to the audiences.

Miss Olive Owens oversees the organization of the make-up crew. Darlene Litton was the student chairman at the beginning of the year.

Staff Works 'Round the Clock

Many classes are held within the walls of Room 14 and one is annual. The annual staff works hard every fifth period to produce a book worth the price paid for it.

Various kinds of work are connected with the publishing of an annual. Pictures are to be mounted, copy to be composed, and heads to be written; these are just a few of the tasks each member has to perform.

Sharon Garrett, editor-in-chief, and Phil Carey, business manager, kept the book going. With Sharon supervising and Phil taking care of the money, the book got well under way.

Hands Never Stop Moving

Darlene Litton, assistant editor, took care of the senior activities and helped with the mounting of pictures. Doris Harp, copy editor, assigned aritcles to her copywriters and they in turn wrote the copy for the book.

Jim Santo, circulation manager, and Phil Freytag, advertising manager, took care of selling the copies and getting the advertising. They both had committees to work with them.

Buzz Getrost, sports editor, took care of sports copy and the taking of sports activity pictures. Gary Gooder, photography manager, took many snapshots for the yearbook.

The book was produced under the supervision of Mrs. Blust, who helped everyone so they could do their job without too many mistakes.

Located on the first floor of the junior high building is the Co-op department.

In conjunction with this department is the new Vocational Industrial Club which meets every six weeks. It was formed January 24, 1952, by junior and senior Co-op boys.

Mr. Hammann directs the activities of the Co-ops and the Vocational Industrial Club.

Inter Nos

Inter Nos, which incidentally means "among us," is the name of the high school's Latin Club.

Under Miss Pfeifer's tutelage members initiated a new set of By-laws and a Constitution. They were also busy selling doughnuts throughout the year, had a Christmas party, sponsored a dance, gave an assembly, and held their annual Roman Banquet.

Y-Teens Active Throughout Year

The Y-Teen Club is one of the most important and worthwhile organizations for girls in Sidney High. This club performs valuable services for both the school and the community. The Senior Y-Teen is composed of junior and senior girls.

The Senior Y-Teens have well planned programs during the year. The girls sell stationery at various times and basketball schedule pencils during basketball season. Selling popcorn and potato chips during football season is another project.

There are several social events including a formal dance. A Christmas party is given at the Children's Home.

Miss Frances Sargeant and Miss Dorothy Duncan are co-sponsors for the club.

Junior Y-Teens is composed of freshman and sophomore girls. This group should be recognized for their selling projects for various organizations such as Disabled Veterans and Tuberculosis. They have numerous social events throughout the year including a fashion show and entertainment for the members' mothers. They also put on an assembly program which is very outstanding. The Junior Y-Teens are organized and carry out worthwhile projects similar to the senior group.

Hi-Y Stresses Christian Spirit

Junior and Senior Hi-Y are two clubs around Sidney High that are exclusively for boys. The Hi-Y is a branch club of the YMCA.

Senior Hi-Y is composed of boys from grades ten to twelve. Each year it sells programs at the football games and has a concession at the basketball games to raise money for activities throughout the year.

In the social affair of the year the Senior Y-Teens and Senior Hi-Y joined in a formal dance. The Hi-Y also had a hayride.

The Junior Hi-Y is made up of students from grades seven to nine. Although this club consists of younger boys, it is just as active as the group with older members.

One of their projects this year was to give baskets of food to the needy people at Thanksgiving. On the social side the Hi-Y had a hayride, Christmas Dance, spring wiener roast, and a swimming party at the Piqua YMCA.

For money the Junior Hi-Y helps the Senior Hi-Y with their concession and program selling. Each year both Hi-Y's present an assembly.

Clubs Promote Work and Play

Science club is for the students who are interested in learning more about science than can be offered in the class room.

The members participate in the Science Day Exhibit at Miami University in the spring. They also take field trips to places of scientific interest.

The club's new sponsor is Mr. Spence. The officers were Robin Morris, president; Barbara Allen, vice-president; and Pat Stafford, secretary-treasurer.

The annual magazine campaign is one of the outstanding projects undertaken by the students at Sidney High. Everyone from the seventh through the twelfth grade vies for the high salesmanship reward.

The money obtained from this project is used to purchase equipment for the band. In 1952 approximately two thousand dollars was realized from this project.

The campaign is carried on under the direction of Mrs. Shedd.

Track Team Races Time

In spite of the fact that they were minus a host of good runners from the previous season, the Yellow Jacket cindermen of 1953 were in top form.

Head Coach Maynard Amstutz had in the running department a few experienced antelopes named Tom Applegate, Jim Stump, and Larry Grandy.

Another veteran and hard worker was hurdler Darvin Ditmer. Throwing the shot and the discus for the team was Paul Baker. Max Bell added points through his broad jumping.

The 1953 tennis team was coached by R. J. White.

The racquet squad consisted of Sam Bender, Tom Flinn, George Kookootsedes, and John Uncapher. All the members of this team are lettermen and all were experienced.

Home games were played on Sidney's Julia Lamb courts.

This team also attended the MVL and the District tennis meets.

The 1953 golfing squad was coached by Robert Caton.

Returning lettermen were Gary Gooder, Bob Kaser, and Bill Von Meyer. Experienced golfers included Garney Avy, Perry Bayley, Art Bumgardner, George Clawson, Jerry Kauffman, Bob Kritzer, and Tom Voress.

Newcomers Hugh Bonnoront, Jimmy Kaser, Joe Kendall, and Tom Protsman joined the team in '53.

Wee-Bees Have Perfect Record

The Junior Hi football team, coached by Mr. Caton and Mr. Angerer, produced a perfect record with five consecutive wins.

Their first game was with Urbana, and a combination of sophomores and freshmen manufactured a 12-6 win. The Wee Bees really walloped the Piqua Papooses in their two encounters, the first time 41-0, and the next time 46-7. Greenville also fell before the mighty Wee Bees 41-0. The final game was with the tail-enders of Bellefontaine's varsity. This went to the Sidney squad 12-6.

Lettermen this year were Byron Baker, Jacque Beers, Jerry Cable, Marvin Deal, Pete Deal, Tom Levering, Larry Lorton, Doug Marker, Bob Oldham, Gary Paul, Nelson Roberts, Jim Spangler, Lee Woodruff, Bob Zimpher, Melvin Nevergall, Barney Baker, Phil Dickman, and Edward Sparks.

Fifteen Seniors Play on '52 Squad

Keith Applegate was the offensive center and also played as defensive linebacker. Jack Brubaker played a little bit of everything this year, including guard, halfback, and defensive end. Bill Cable played the end post on both offense and defense. Marvin Ditmer played left end well enough to earn first string All-MVL honors. Ronnie Fogt's play as tackle added some of that important weight to the line.

Buzz Getrost played as the senior quarterback and safetyman. Dick Heniser was the squad's senior manager. Captain of the squad, Bucky Flinn, was recognized as one of the better tackles in the MVL. Paul Clayton, a tackle, added strength to the line last season. Bill Weikert was a member of the pass receiving department.

Dave Moehring's two hundred and eighty pounds was valuable to the team's strong defensive line. Carl Watren played guard on the offense for his last year with the Jackets. Bob Conrad was voted on the All-MVL squad for his superior tackle play. Bart Holmes played his senior year on the squad as linebacker and defensive tackle. Buck Ward was the kicking specialist for Sidney in addition to his duties as fullback.

Score Clock Favors Jackets

On the upper right is an action shot at Miamisburg. Frank Lee (holding ball) leaves a trail of Viking defenders behind him as referee's raised arms signify touchdown.

Team Ends Season in Third Place

This season's record for the Jacket gridders was six wins to half as many losses and third place in the MVL. However, they were second only to Miamisburg and Fairmont who tied for the championship.

The Jackets' initial battle ended in defeat at the hands of the Lima South Tigers 12-7. Bellefontaine was Sidney's first victim of the season 7-0. In a startling upset the Jackets downed the highly touted Miamisburg Vikings 14-7, but were defeated the next week by Fairmont 20-14.

Sidney trounced Piqua 26-6 and nipped Xenia 13-12 only to be beaten by Greenville 13-7. The Jackets skunked Oakwood 26-0 and Troy 35-0.

Wayne Gibson was head coach with Paul Powers and Maynard Amstutz assisting.

Annual Sponsors Third Homecoming

The third annual homecoming, sponsored by the annual staff headed by Mrs. Jean Blust, was a feature of the Oakwood game October 30, 1952.

The five senior girls comprising the court were elected from the entire senior class by the upper three grades. At the ceremony before the game they were driven around the track in shiny convertibles to the west side of the field where five senior band boys escorted them through an aisle of football boys to a decorated platform. This was a miniature football field with everything from yard markers to decorated goal posts. Spot lights illuminated the coronation of Barbara Allen as queen. Two small children—Steve Elsner and Nancy Conover—carried the roses and the crown.

The royal court was escorted to reserved seats to watch Sidney win over Oakwood.

Mothers Serve at Annual Banquet

The Masonic Temple was the setting this year for another of the annual Football Banquets sponsored by the Football Mothers' Club.

Master of Ceremonies was Mr. White, Sidney High athletic director. The program included a fine meal cooked by the Football Mothers, and speeches by Mr. McDermott, superintendent; Mr. Meadows, principal; and Mr. Gibson, head football coach, who awarded the letters.

Trophies were presented to those rated as the most efficient players for the year. Dave Moehring received the award for the most efficient lineman, while Paul Baker and Jack Brubaker tied for the backfield honors.

The guest speaker was Carrol Widdows, the head football coach of Ohio University.

Mrs. Shreves, president of the Football Mothers' Club, gave the organization's annual award of golden football key charms to all the senior letter winners.

Cheerleaders Boost Jackets' Morale

Junior and senior cheerleaders, with Miss Lucile Keller as the senior sponsor and Mrs. Janice Shedd as junior sponsor, back the team wholeheartedly through football and basketball seasons.

Good Show Offered by Varsity

The Yellow Jacket basketball season results were a combination of tough luck and a rugged schedule. However, in spite of their unimpressive record of five wins and eleven losses, they fared no worse in the league race than Miamisburg, Greenville, and Fairmont, who, together with Sidney, tied for third place.

The Jackets also won a trophy for runners-up honors at Piqua's holiday tournament.

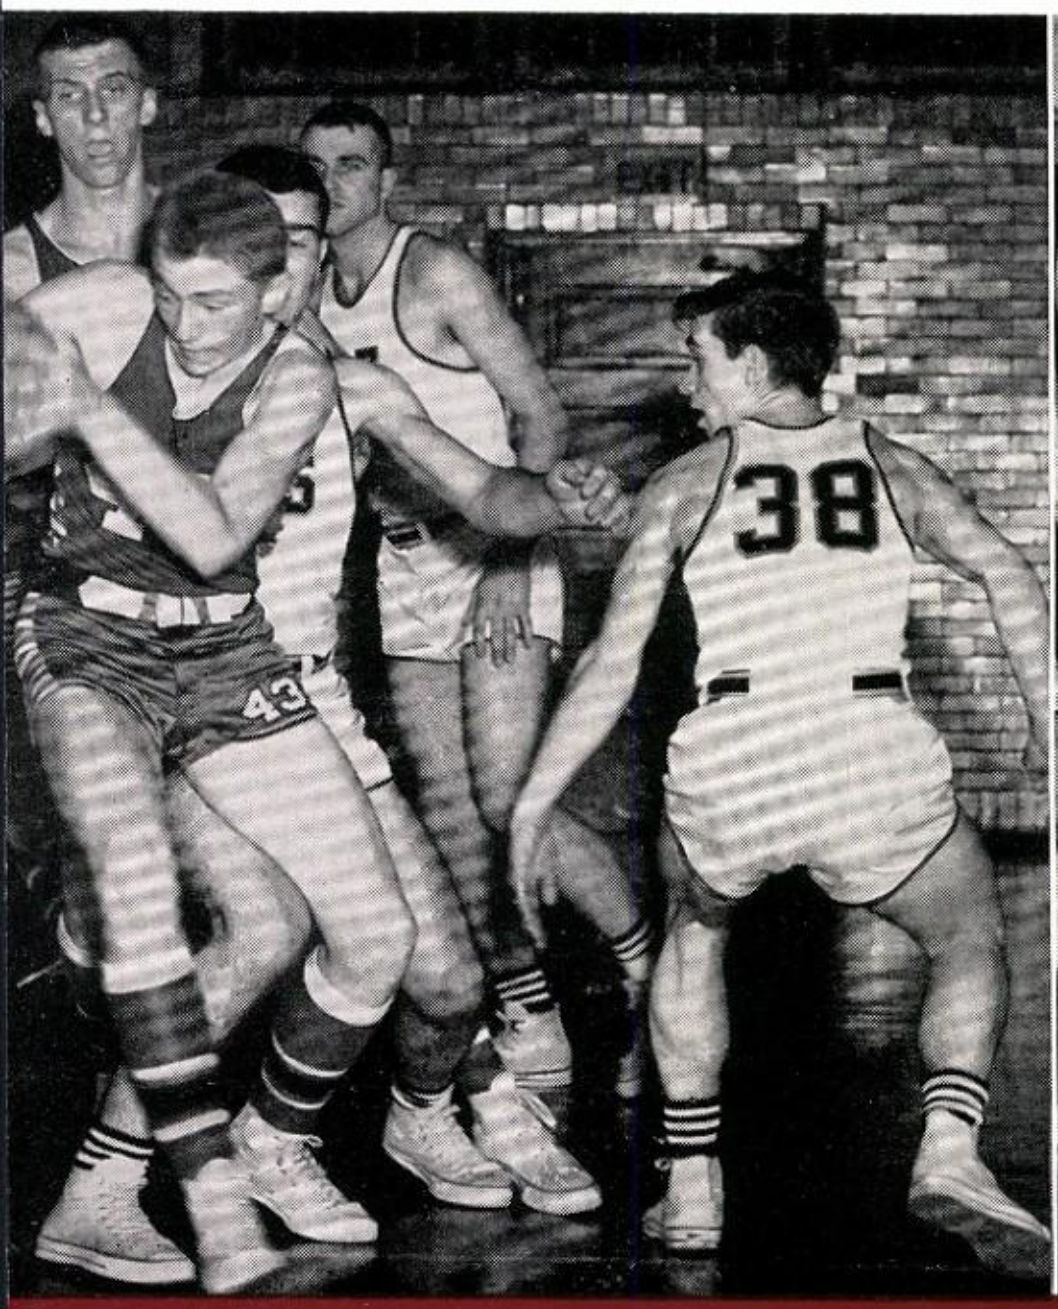
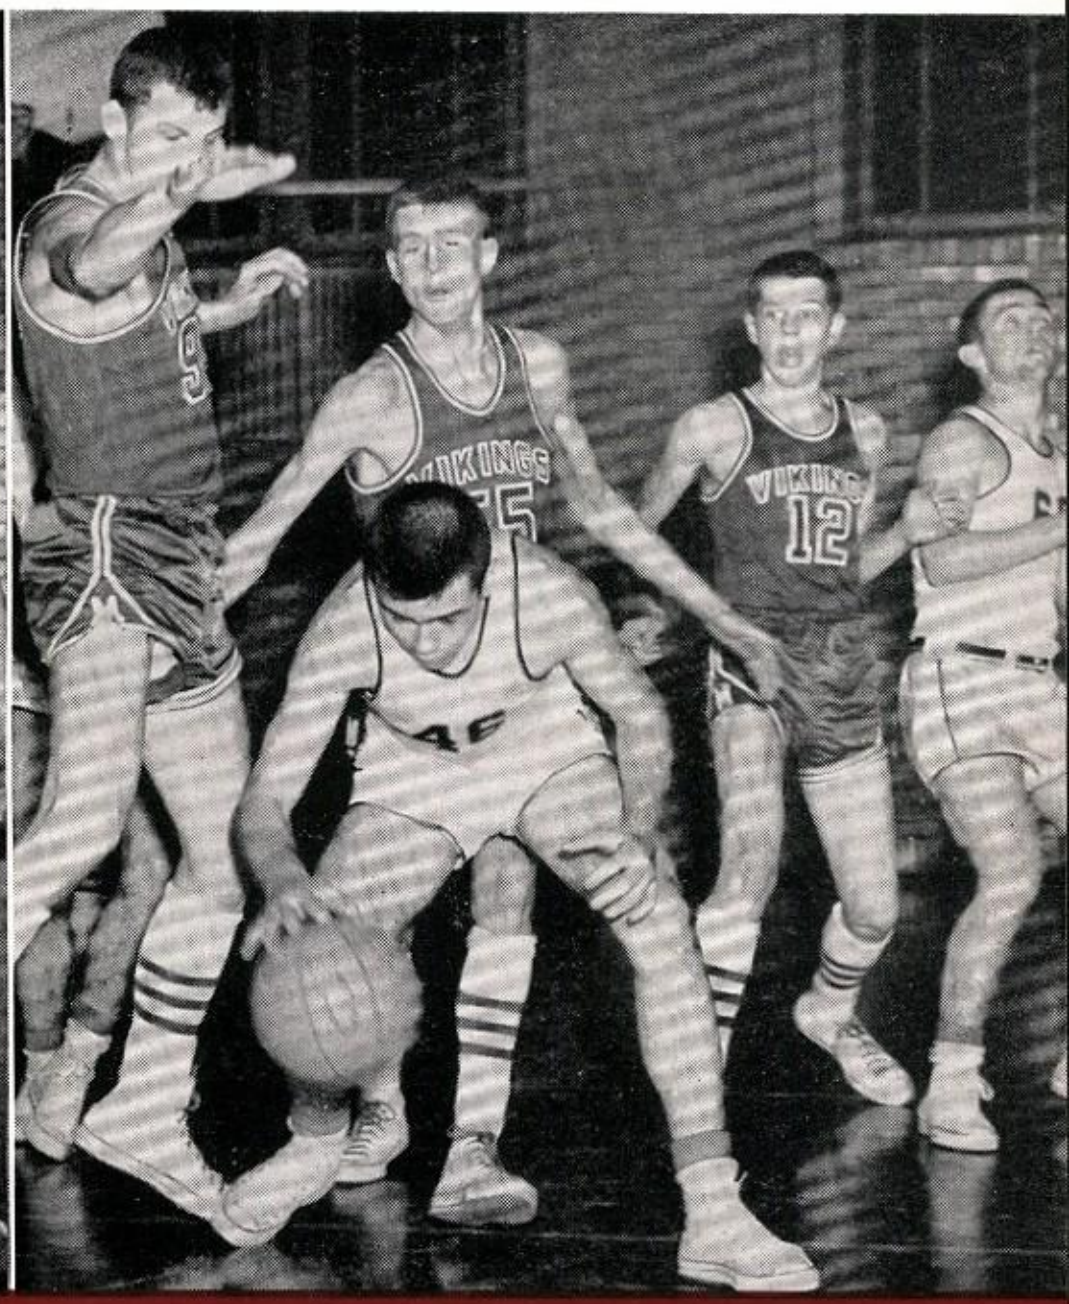
Jackets Finish Tough Schedule





The pictures above verify some of the rough and tumble action displayed by the Yellow Jackets for Sidney's hardwood fans.

Getting off to a slow start, the Jackets dropped the first five of their scheduled games, but then began to find their shooting range to win five and lose six of the remaining contests.

Sidney's Yellow Jackets won three and lost four league games.

Larry Grandy the team's shooting ace was honored by the Dayton newspapers as one of the better players of the MVL.

S H S Has Unique Band

One of the proudest features of SHS is its all-boy band. Under the guidance of their new director, Richard Melvin, the band has carried on the traditions set by Paul Fitzwater, presenting some of the finest and cleverest performances seen in the Miami Valley.

The band practices daily during football season for their half-time shows, participates in various parades held in town, and presents a concert with the orchestra in the spring. They also give a solo performance at the close of school.

This year's band lost 15 seniors including drum major Eugene Fogt, but a crop of talented young musicians seemed to bear out the old adage that "there is always someone to take your place."

Five boys who were in the concert band but not in the marching band were Dave Kiser, Tom Killian, Bill Fultz, Jim Fouss, and Hugh Bonnoront.

'Stage Door' Swings Smoothly

This year's junior class play, "Stage Door," came off with a big bang. Miss Olive Owens directed and Marjorie Blake was prompter. The proceeds from the play go to make the Junior-Senior Prom a big success. The Junior play is hard work, but everyone who takes part enjoys every minute of it.

Key Men Set Policies

Harold C. McDermott, Superintendent of Sidney Schools, has all of the schools in the city system under his supervision. Mr. McDermott served here formerly as the chemistry and physics teacher before serving as principal for two years and now as superintendent.

People seldom realize the planning necessary to operate and maintain our city schools. This work is done mainly by our Board of Education consisting of Wayne Bertsch, president; Reuben Aschenbach, vice-president; Walter Hance, clerk; Huffman Dearth, and Virgil Ward.

The Board was busy this past year with the completion of four new elementary buildings and modernizing three older buildings.

The Board considers the necessity of planning for the future and searching for ways of improving the educational system.

Miss Hermine Freytag, secretary to the Principal

Staffs Accomplish Much

A high school is certainly a very busy place. There are always many details to be attended to. Sidney High is fortunate in having a very capable staff to attend to all these duties.

The two secretaries aid in the efficient operation of our school.

Since 1920, Miss Mary Line has performed her duties in the superintendent's office; this long record proves how very capable she has been.

Miss Hermine Freytag is the secretary in the principal's office; here she efficiently carries out her many duties. She also helps train girls who assist in the office.

Mr. Paul Meadows has served as principal since the fall of 1951. He is a graduate of Carleton College, Northfield, Minnesota.

Mr. White proves very valuable as assistant principal. He is a graduate of Otterbein College.

Mr. White and Mr. Meadows both find relaxation and enjoyment in the game of tennis. Mr. White is also tennis coach.

Both Mr. White and Mr. Meadows are keenly interested in all phases of school life. They are always glad to assist the students with any problems that might arise.

In Memoriam

Lewis Burns' tragic death on January 6 caused much grief to all who knew him.

Although he was partially paralyzed by polio since the fourth grade, he overcame this handicap enough to be able to attend school and participate in many activities. He was active in Science Club and a Masque and Gavel member. His cheerfulness endeared him to his classmates and he was well liked by everyone.

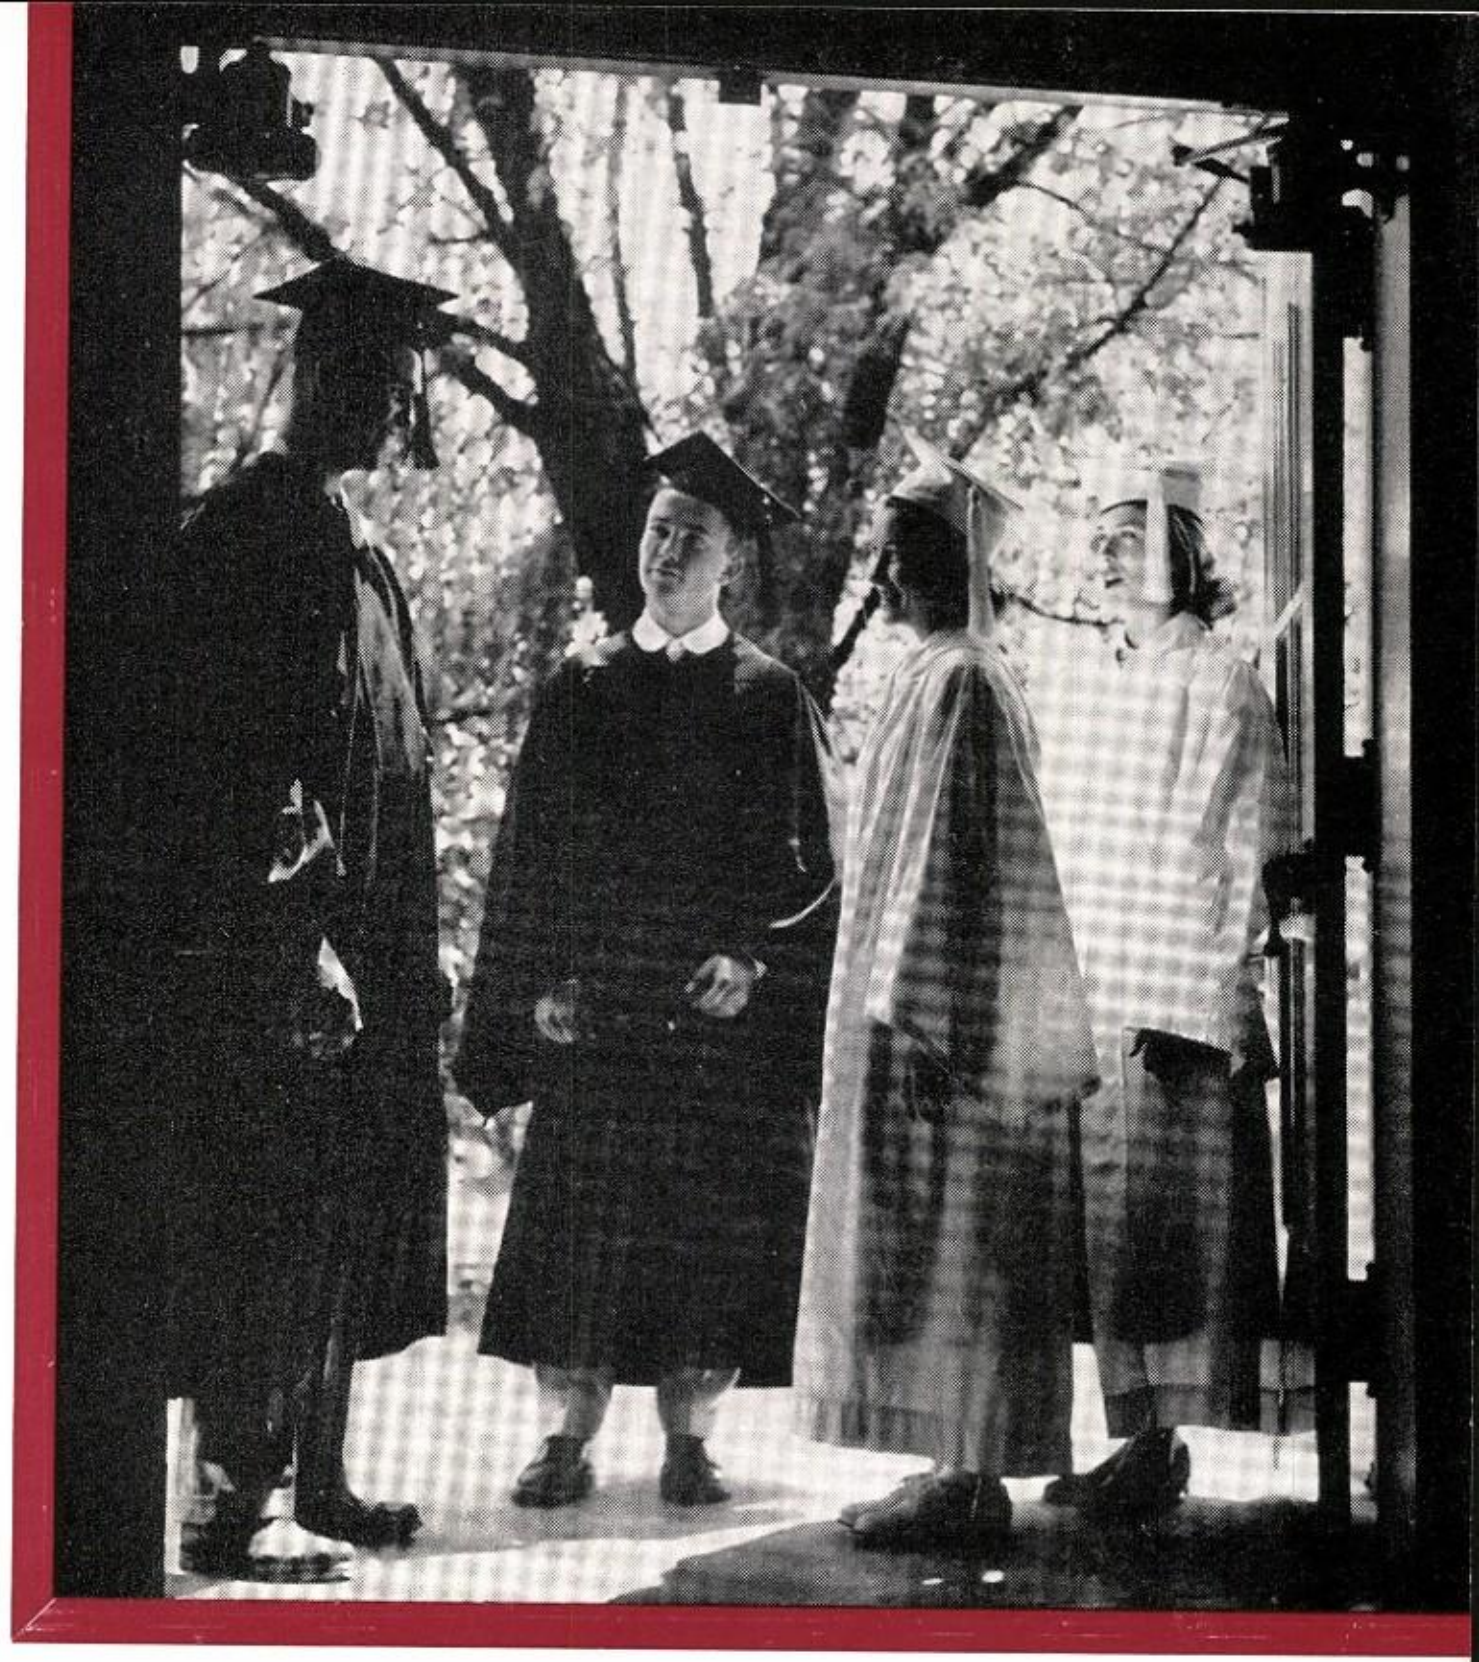
The seniors will graduate without "Lewie" this year, but he will not be forgotten.

Marvin Ditmer, president, was very active in sports and took part in many FFA activities

Buzz Getrost, vice president, was also athletically inclined and was sports editor of the '53 yearbook

Sharon Garrett, secretary, participated in many school programs and was editor-in-chief of the annual

Dollie Roegner, treasurer, was actively interested in all projects carried on by the commercial department



All's Well That Ends Well

For the Senior Class of '53 the four years of high school passed quickly. Just a short time ago the seniors were attending their "Pussy Willow Hop," the highlight of the freshman year. The main event of the sophomore year was the "Lovers' Lane Ball."

During the junior year came the first play attempt, "Meet Me In St. Louis," and the Prom. The senior year offered "Goodby, My Fancy," the Senior Banquet, the Prom, and a whirl of social events.

Seniors accomplished a great many things in many fields—music, plays, sports, and a variety of clubs.

The officers were Marvin Ditmer, president; Richard Getrost, vice president; Sharon Garrett, secretary; Dollie Roegner, treasurer; Bob Conrad, Tom Flinn, and Eugene Fogt, Student Council.

In later years the seniors of '53 will look back with pleasure at the happy days spent in Sidney High School.

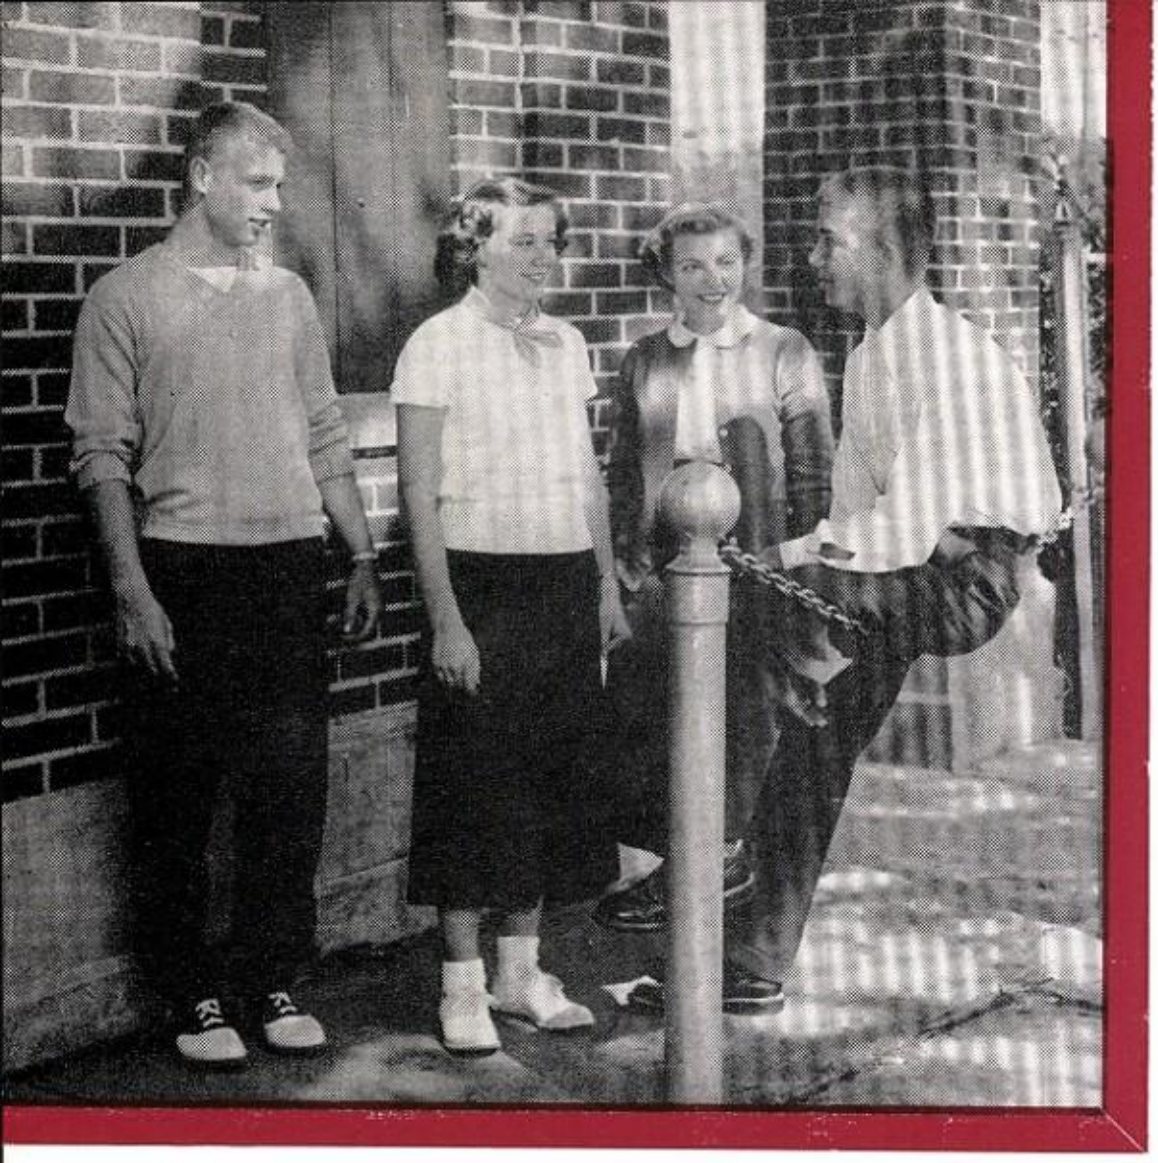
Among the souvenirs of their high school days that the Class of 1953 will take with them are their class rings.

Best Wishes to Class of '53
W. E. Baumgardner, Farm Equipment



Jim Stump, treasurer, was mainly interested in track this year, but will turn to other sports next season

Marilyn Moore, secretary, was interested in FBLA and Y-Teen activities throughout the year

Jo Bowen, vice president, was active in the speech department and the music groups

Sam Bender, president, was another athletic officer interested mainly in football and tennis. He was sports editor of Sidney High School News

Juniors Study Leading Role

Nine hundred school days have flown past for the busy class of '54 since they entered SHS as seventh graders.

They seemed to have more than their share of talent. Not only the boys but also the girls of this class were active in sports. Nine lasses played on the girls' varsity basketball team and eleven boys participated in football, while there were five boys on the basketball team.

An average of twenty-five per cent of the eleventh graders made the honor roll each six weeks. This high percentage shows the scholastic ability present in the junior class.

The girls sextet sang a number of times at Wright Patterson Hospital, and six of the dance band members were juniors.

This class started in the seventh grade with one hundred and eighty-one members and ended the junior year with one hundred and fifty-seven.

The Junior-Senior Prom was the biggest social school event during their junior year at Sidney High.

Sophs Prepare For Upper Berth

The Class of 1955 shows promise in all fields—sports, music, and scholarship.

The boys of the class took part in football, basketball, and track. The girls, not to be outdone by the boys, were active in GAA and some of them made varsity volleyball and basketball.

In the way of music there was the band and orchestra, the junior girls' glee club, senior girls' glee club, boys' glee club, and mixed chorus. There are also some fine ensemble groups.

The sophomores were capable in the scholarship field. Several students maintained a 4.00 average. They also participated in the Miami district scholarship tests.

Bob Allen and Larry Waggoner were chosen to represent their class in the Student Council.

Bill Gruebmeyer, president of the sophomore class, is a good student and is active in the music department

Connie Ash was class secretary and participated in many extra-curricular activities

Vice-president of the class is Tim Houldsworth. Tim was active in varsity athletics

Dick Harp, another sports-minded student, handled the class financial affairs as treasurer

Best Wishes

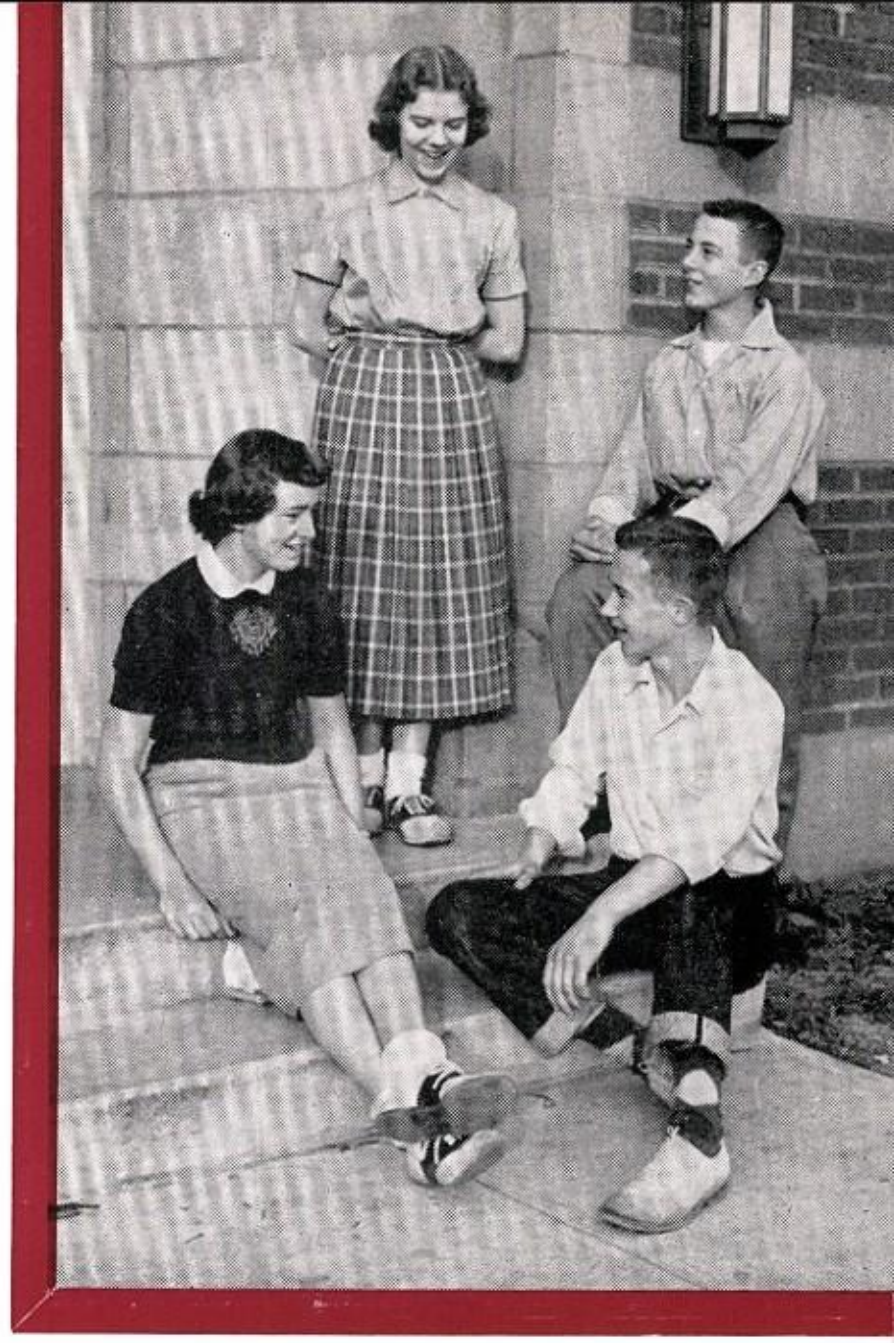
Freshmen Get In Step At SHS

The class of '56 have had many new experiences since they have entered high school.

Freshman boys and girls took part in many activities such as GAA, Junior Hi-Y, Junior Y-Teens, glee clubs, band, orchestra, basketball, and football.

The class officers have many interests. Charles Sekyra was president; Judy Stump, vice-president; Gretchen Brunner, secretary; Larry Lorton, treasurer; Shyla Freeman and Robert Zimpher were on the student council.

The class will have to work hard to keep up their high standard. Many will be leaders throughout the remainder of their high school years.



Gretchen Brunner, secretary of the class, was interested in the musical groups of Sidney High

Judy Stump, another musical-minded student, was vice-president of the "greenies"

Charles Sekyra, president, was a member of the band is to be next year's drum major

Larry Lorton, a member of the football and basketball squads, was treasurer of the class

Eighth Graders Look Ahead

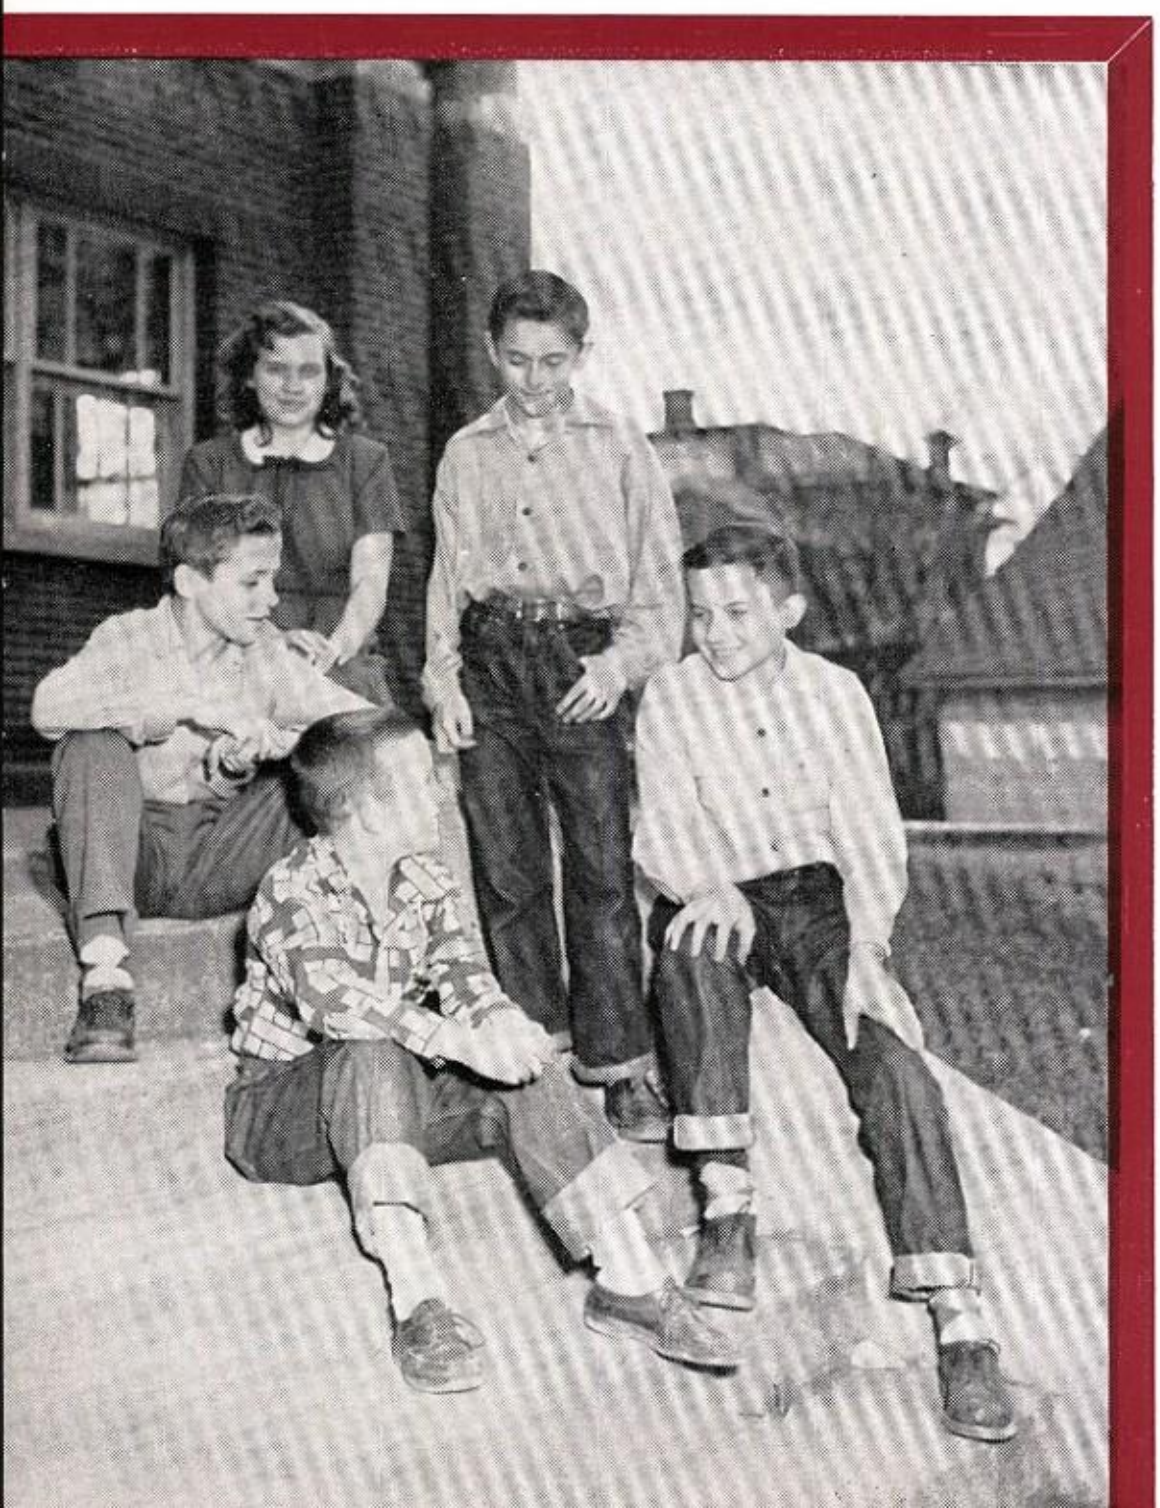
The class of '57 are well on their way in their short journey through Sidney High School. They are proving themselves to be a good class scholastically, athletically, and musically.

Several junior assemblies were put on by these eighth graders as well as a few radio programs for Sidney School Time.

Their football team won every single game. The basketball team was less fortunate.

These athletic teams were backed by excellent cheerleaders who attended all home games and also cheered at Piqua and Covington.

Sixteen members of the junior orchestra were students from the eighth grade. In the junior band were eight members from this class; three made the senior band also.



John Spangler, student council representative, was active in junior high sports

Nancy Rose, secretary, is a quiet student but one who takes her school work seriously

John Keysor, treasurer, was talented in music and took part in Hi-Y activities

Glenn Apple, president of the eighth graders, also liked athletics

Danny Elsner, vice-president, an above average student, was manager of the junior high basketball team this year

Absent when pictures were taken were Wayne Glass, Jerry Wenner, Philip Esau, and Harry Hand

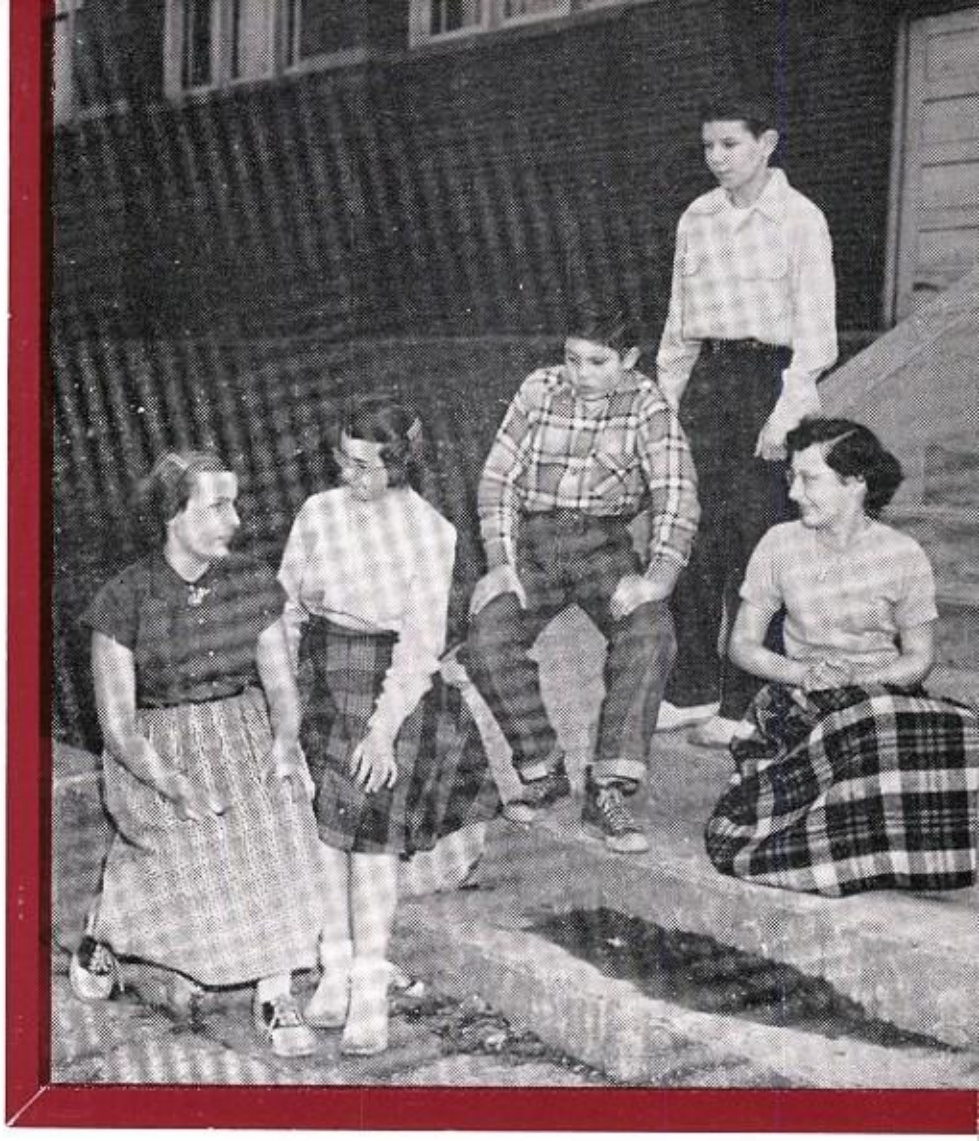
Junior High Is Big Step

A whole new world opened for the class of '58 last fall with their entrance into Junior High School.

The seventh graders, this year busily acclimating themselves to high school life and the new responsibilities which were suddenly theirs, will one day be the upperclassmen and leaders of SHS. Right now this day seems far in the future to them.

Their first year is now over. They are no doubt looking forward to next year when, as eighth graders, they will return, wiser and more confident students.



Brenda Shaw, vice-president, a good natured student, takes her school work and extra-curricular activities in stride

Letitia Clawson, secretary, enjoys her school work and participates in church activities

David Geuy, president, coming from the farm, intends to study agriculture

Charles Knoop, student council representative, takes active part in both musical and athletic departments

Janet Mitchell, treasurer, tops the seventh grade honor roll and may be a future scholarship prospect
